INTRODUCTION

Andrena Fabricius, 1775 is the one of the largest bee genus, it numbering about 1500 species worldwide and about 950 among them are known from the Palearctic region (Gusenleitner & Schwarz, 2002). Genus is distributed throughout the Holarctic region, south in the Western Hemisphere to Panama, in Africa through the East African highlands and south to the Cape of Good Hope, and in Asia to the mountains of southern India and of Malaysia (Michener, 2007).

Currently 225 species of Andrena are known from Russia (Proshchalykin et al., 2017), but the fauna of this genus in Siberia is particularly understudied. The present paper is a part of the ongoing research of Andrena (Proshchalykin, 2010; Sidorov et al., 2017; Sidorov & Proshchalykin, 2017a, b) of Siberia, and in particular of Tyva Republic. So far, only three Andrena species have been recorded from Tyva Republic by Osytshnjuk et al. (2005, 2008). After the publication of Proshchalykin et al. (2017), the number of known species of this genus from Tyva increased to 20.

Based on a comprehensive study of specimens held in various collections, we report additional records of 19 species, with seven species recorded from Tyva Republic for the first time, resulting in a total number of 27 Andrena species known from this region.

MATERIAL AND METHODS

This paper is based on a study of 367 specimens of Andrena from collections of Scientific Center of the East Asia Terrestrial Biodiversity, Vladivostok [FCBV], Kemerovo State University [KSU], Zoological Museum of Moscow State University [ZMMU], Institution of Systematics and Ecology of Animals, Novosibirsk [SZMN] and Zoological Institute RAS, Saint Petersburg [ZISP]. All specimens were identified by first author.

For detailed synonymy of Andrena species see Gusenleitner and Schwarz (2002), the general taxonomy and distribution of species follows Proshchalykin et al. (2017).

We have used the following abbreviations for collectors: AB – A.V. Barkalov, AL – A.S. Lelej, DL – D.V. Logunov; DS – D.A. Sidorov, LZ – L.V. Zimina, MP – M.Yu. Proshchalykin, SB – S.A. Belokobylskij, SL – S.L. Luzyanin, VL – V.M. Loktionov. New distributional records are noted with an asterisk (*).

DISCUSSION

In total, 27 species of Andrena are recorded from Tyva Republic (Table 1). This is distinctly less in comparison with the adjacent faunas of Buryatia (48 species), Irkutsk Province (43), Altai (41), and Khakassia (32) but more than understudied faunas of Krasnoyarsk Territory (16), Omsk (14), and Tyumen Provinces (3) (Proshchalykin et al., 2017). The number of Tuvanian Andrena species is supposed to be at least twice higher than known so far. Probably several species that are known from neighboring Mongolia, China or other Siberian regions of Russia also occur in Tyva Republic, such as Andrena argentata Smith, 1844, A. clarkella (Kirby, 1802), A. combinata (Christ, 1791), A. fulvida Schenck, 1853, A. lapponica Zetterstedt, 1838, A. maukensis Matsumura, 1911, A. praecox (Scopoli, 1763), A. sibirica Morawitz, 1888, A. subopaca Nylander, 1848, A. transbaicalica Popov, 1949.
